

Orangewood School 3rd Grade Newsletter

Subject Highlights

Language Arts

We have been learning a lot of new skills and routines this month. We have been learning to have constructive conversations about what we are reading and thinking. The skills we have been focusing on are making predictions, asking questions, identifying the author's purpose, and many more. We have started our first nonfiction reading unit on Animal Adaptations.

Science & Social Studies

After spending the first few weeks of the month getting to know our classroom community and expectations, we have started learning about animal adaptations. We are learning through our reading text and during independent reading time through RAZ-Plus.

Math

We have started using our new curriculum, i-ready! We started the month by reviewing place value. The new skills we learned are rounding to the tens and rounding to the hundreds using number lines. This week we started adding 3 digit numbers using base 10 block models, partial sums, and the standard algorithm.
